access to care

sex

recorded medical history symptoms

gender

socioeconomic background perceived race

cognitive biases

perceived behavioral risk factors

Clinicians select tests and diagnoses

Clinicians learn from present understanding of disease

Patient encounter is added to future data

Patients select how and when to seek care

Researchers summarize data into future evidence